

Beyond free Wi-Fi: Offbeat hotel perks that make resort fees a little more tolerable

PUBLISHED THU, JUL 4 2019 • 11:00 AM EDT

Harriet Baskas
@HBASKAS

Fairy houses and Whiff Walks

Fairy houses – courtesy Woodstock Inn & Resort
Fairy Houses, Woodstock Inn and Resort

In Vermont, summer and fall guests of the Woodstock Inn & Resort are offered a bounty of free classes and complimentary tours at the resort's 3.5 acre, certified organic Kelly Way Gardens.

In addition to nibbling tours and aromatherapy Wellness Whiff Walks, guests can try to spot the fairies living in tiny houses made from repurposed gourds.

“The garden immersions are designed to fully engage guests and bring Vermont’s farm-to-table ethos to life,” said Courtney Lowe, the resort’s vice president of marketing and business development.

Additional amenities include a local shuttle service and admission to Billings Farm & Museum, home to Jersey cows, draft horses, Southdown sheep and heritage chickens. (Summer rates start at $279. Resort fee: $35 per day)